POLL

---

FOR RELEASE: JULY 15, 2013

BLACK VOTERS LIFT WEINER, SPITZER IN NYC DEM PRIMARY, QUINNIPIAC UNIVERSITY POLL FINDS; VOTERS SAY 3-1 CORRUPTION IS WORSE THAN SEX MISCONDUCT

Strong support among black voters propels former Congressman Anthony Weiner to the top of the heap in the Democratic primary for New York City mayor and gives former Gov. Eliot Spitzer a 48 – 33 percent lead over Manhattan Borough President Scott Stringer in the Democratic primary race for city comptroller, according to a Quinnipiac University poll released today.

“Notoriety has earned the ‘Tabloid Twins,’ former Gov. Eliot Spitzer as Client 9 and former Congressman Anthony (Tweets) Weiner, good initial numbers in the polls,” said Maurice Carroll, director of the Quinnipiac University Polling Institute.

“Whether those numbers hold up in the real poll on Primary Election Day is the big question.”

Weiner gets 25 percent of primary voters, with 22 percent for City Council Speaker Christine Quinn, 11 percent for former Comptroller William Thompson, 10 percent for Public Advocate Bill de Blasio, 7 percent for Comptroller John Liu, 1 percent for former City Council member Sal Albanese and 21 percent undecided, the independent Quinnipiac (KWIN-uh-pe-ack) University poll finds.

Black voters go 31 percent for Weiner, 16 percent for Quinn, 14 percent for Thompson, 11 percent for Liu and 8 percent for de Blasio. White voters go 22 percent for Quinn, 20 percent for Weiner, 16 percent for de Blasio and 12 percent for Thompson.

Weiner gets 29 percent of men and 21 percent of women. The gender breakdown for other candidates generally matches their overall tally.

Quinnipiac University Poll/July 15, 2013 – page 2

There is a big racial split and a smaller gender gap in the Democratic primary for comptroller: Spitzer leads 61 – 26 percent among black voters and 47 – 27 percent among Hispanic voters while Stringer leads 44 – 36 percent among white voters.

Men back Spitzer 53 – 33 percent while women back him 44 – 32 percent.

Spitzer gets a 53 – 32 percent favorability rating, with similar racial and gender divides.

For Stringer, 62 percent of Democrats haven't heard enough about him to form an opinion.

Weiner is the best-known mayoral candidate among Democratic voters, with a 42 – 36 percent favorability rating. Ratings for other contenders are:

- Quinn at 39 – 34 percent favorable;
- de Blasio at 40 – 11 percent favorable, with 47 percent who don't know enough about him to form an opinion;
- Thompson at 41 – 12 percent favorable, while 45 percent haven't formed an opinion.

“Is this still a headline-driven campaign, with Weiner and Spitzer dominating the news?”

Carroll asks. “Is it better to be well-known mainly for a scandal than to be largely unknown? Will voters learn more about Thompson, de Blasio, Liu and Stringer in the next eight weeks? And will it matter? We'll keep polling and looking for answers.”

Democrats say 58 – 31 percent that Spitzer should run for comptroller and say 53 – 33 percent that Weiner should run for mayor, again with men and black voters more supportive than women and white voters.

Financial impropriety is a worse offense for an elected official than sexual misconduct, New York City Democrats say 69 – 22 percent. Financial impropriety is worse, women say 66 – 25 percent and men say 73 – 18 percent, white voters say 76 – 15 percent, black voters say 65 – 28 percent and Hispanic voters say 60 – 31 percent.

From July 8 – 14, Quinnipiac University surveyed 738 New York City registered Democrats with a margin of error of +/- 3.6 percentage points. Live interviewers call land lines and cell phones.

The Quinnipiac University Poll, directed by Douglas Schwartz, Ph.D., conducts public opinion surveys in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Florida, Ohio, Virginia, Colorado, Iowa and the nation as a public service and for research.
