FOR RELEASE: JUNE 28, 2023

BIDEN VS. TRUMP: TOSS UP IN PENNSYLVANIA, TRUMP LEADS GOP PRIMARY, QUINNIPIAC UNIVERSITY PENNSYLVANIA POLL FINDS; VOTERS GIVE GOV. SHAPIRO HIGH MARKS, ESPECIALLY ON I-95 HANDLING

In a state considered key to presidential elections, former President Donald Trump is leading a crowded field of candidates seeking the GOP nomination, receiving 49 percent support among registered Republican voters in Pennsylvania, followed by Florida Governor Ron DeSantis receiving 25 percent support, according to a Quinnipiac (KWIN-uh-pea-ack) University poll released today. Former New Jersey Governor Chris Christie and former Vice President Mike Pence each receive 5 percent support. Former United Nations Ambassador and South Carolina Governor Nikki Haley and South Carolina Senator Tim Scott each receive 4 percent support. All other listed candidates receive 1 percent or less support.

Among registered Democratic voters in Pennsylvania, President Joe Biden receives 71 percent support, Robert F. Kennedy Jr., an environmental lawyer and anti-vaccine activist, receives 17 percent support, and Marianne Williamson, an author, receives 5 percent support.

In a hypothetical 2024 general election matchup between Biden and Trump, the race is a virtual dead heat among all registered voters with 47 percent supporting Trump and 46 percent supporting Biden.

Republicans (89 – 7 percent) and independents (51 – 37 percent) support Trump, while Democrats (94 – 4 percent) support Biden.

“Though battling fierce legal headwinds, Trump leaves the rest of the GOP pack (including Ron DeSantis) looking like ‘also rans’ and is running neck and neck with President Biden,” said Quinnipiac University Polling Analyst Tim Malloy.

MOST IMPORTANT ISSUE IN 2024

When registered voters were given a list of eight issues and asked which is the most important to them in deciding who to vote for in the election for president, 30 percent say the economy and 28 percent say preserving democracy in the United States. Nine percent say gun violence, 8 percent say abortion, 7 percent say immigration, 6 percent say health care, 4 percent say climate change and 3 percent say racial inequality.

Among Republicans, the economy (47 percent) ranks first followed by preserving democracy in the United States (23 percent) and immigration (12 percent).

Among Democrats, preserving democracy in the United States (34 percent) ranks first followed by gun violence (18 percent) and abortion (13 percent).

Among independents, the economy (36 percent) and preserving democracy in the United States (30 percent) are the top issues. No other issue reached double digits.

GOVERNOR SHAPIRO

A majority of voters approve of the way Governor Josh Shapiro is handling his job with 57 percent approving, 23 percent disapproving and 20 percent not offering an opinion.

Democrats (84 – 4 percent) and independents (53 – 24 percent) approve, while Republicans (41 – 34 percent) disapprove.

A slight majority of voters (51 percent) approve of the way Shapiro is handling the state budget, while 25 percent disapprove, and 25 percent did not offer an opinion.

Voters overwhelmingly approve 74 – 8 percent of the way Shapiro is handling the response to the I-95 highway collapse in Philadelphia with 18 percent not offering an opinion.

“Those across-the-board honeymoon approval numbers for first term Governor Shapiro are no doubt buoyed by voters’ perceptions that he stepped up and took charge when the bridge came down on I-95,” added Malloy.

HIGHWAYS & BRIDGES

In the wake of the partial I-95 highway collapse in Philadelphia, a slight majority of voters (53 percent) think major highways and bridges in Pennsylvania are mostly safe, while 43 percent think they are mostly not safe.

JOB APPROVALS

Voters give Senator Bob Casey, Jr. a positive 44 – 32 percent job approval rating, with 24 percent not offering an opinion.

They give Senator John Fetterman a negative 39 – 50 percent job approval rating, with 10 percent not offering an opinion.

Voters give President Biden a negative 39 – 57 percent job approval rating, with 4 percent not offering an opinion.

TRUMP

Voters indicate they are paying close attention to news regarding the federal criminal charges filed against Trump in connection with the way he handled classified documents after leaving the White House. When voters were asked how closely they have been following news about the charges, 44 percent say very closely, 38 percent say somewhat closely, and 17 percent say not too closely.

Sixty percent of voters think the federal criminal charges involving Trump and his handling of classified documents after leaving the White House are either very serious (45 percent) or somewhat serious (15 percent), while close to 4 in 10 voters (37 percent) think they are either not too serious (14 percent) or not serious at all (23 percent).

Half of voters (50 percent) think Trump should be prosecuted on criminal charges over his handling of classified documents after leaving the White House, while 44 percent think he should not be prosecuted.

A majority of voters (56 percent) think there are serious questions that remain to be answered, while 35 percent think Trump has given satisfactory answers on this matter.

A majority of voters (56 percent) think the Justice Department's case involving former President Trump's handling of classified documents after leaving the White House is mainly motivated by politics, while 41 percent think the case is mainly motivated by the law.

HUNTER BIDEN

Voters indicate they are paying close attention to news regarding the federal tax charges and gun possession charge filed against President Biden's son, Hunter Biden. When voters were asked how closely they have been following news about the charges, 33 percent say very closely, 37 percent say somewhat closely, and 29 percent say not too closely.

Three quarters of voters (75 percent) think the federal tax charges and gun possession charge filed against Hunter Biden are either very serious (41 percent) or somewhat serious (34 percent), while 19 percent think the charges are either not too serious (12 percent) or not serious at all (7 percent).

Roughly 6 in 10 voters (58 percent) think the Justice Department's plea deal with Hunter Biden regarding the federal tax charges and gun possession charge is mainly motivated by politics, while 36 percent think the plea deal is mainly motivated by the law.

LIVING IN PA

Nearly 8 in 10 voters (78 percent) feel like they can afford to live in Pennsylvania, while 20 percent feel like they cannot afford to live in the Keystone State.

Asked about their own personal finances, 12 percent of voters say they are getting better, while 42 percent say they are getting worse, and 44 percent say they are staying about the same.

If given the financial means to do so, roughly one-third of voters (35 percent) say they would move out of Pennsylvania to somewhere else, while 61 percent say they would not.

WILDFIRES & AIR QUALITY

When asked about the recent wildfires in Canada that led to dangerous air quality levels in parts of Pennsylvania that could linger through the summer, roughly two-thirds of voters (65 percent) say they are either very concerned (27 percent) or somewhat concerned (38 percent) about their health or the health of their family members because of wildfires, while 35 percent say they are either not so concerned (20 percent) or not concerned at all (15 percent).

1,584 Pennsylvania self-identified registered voters were surveyed from June 22nd – 26th with a margin of error of +/- 2.5 percentage points.

The survey included 614 self-identified registered Republican voters with a margin of error of +/- 4.0 percentage points and 664 self-identified registered Democratic voters with a margin of error of +/- 3.8 percentage points.

The Quinnipiac University Poll, directed by Doug Schwartz, Ph.D. since 1994, conducts independent, non-partisan national and state polls on politics and issues. Surveys adhere to industry best practices and are based on random samples of adults using random digit dialing with live interviewers calling landlines and cell phones.
