61% OF VOTERS THINK THE TRUMP ADMINISTRATION HAS NOT GIVEN AN HONEST ACCOUNT OF THE FATAL SHOOTING OF ALEX PRETTI,
QUINNIPIAC UNIVERSITY NATIONAL POLL FINDS;
58% OF VOTERS THINK DHS SECRETARY KRISTI NOEM SHOULD BE REMOVED

More than a week after nurse Alex Pretti was shot and killed by federal immigration agents in Minneapolis, 61 percent of voters think the Trump administration has not given an honest account of the incident and 25 percent think the Trump administration has given an honest account of the incident, with 14 percent not offering an opinion, according to a Quinnipiac (KWIN-uh-pea-ack) University national poll of registered voters released today.

Democrats (93 – 2 percent) and independents (65 – 20 percent) think the Trump administration has not given an honest account of the incident, while Republicans (60 – 19 percent) think the Trump administration has given an honest account of the incident.

An overwhelming majority of voters (80 percent) think there should be an independent investigation into this shooting, while 15 percent don't think so.

“We need more facts and an independent investigation is the way to get them, say voters who cast doubt on the honesty of the account of how Alex Pretti ended up dead on a Minneapolis street,” said Quinnipiac University Polling Analyst Tim Malloy.

Seventy-eight percent of voters say they have seen video of the fatal shooting of Pretti by Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agents, while 21 percent of voters say they have not seen video of the shooting.

Sixty-two percent of voters think the shooting was not justified, while 22 percent think it was justified, and 16 percent did not offer an opinion.

ICE

Fifty-nine percent of voters think the recent ICE-involved shootings in Minneapolis are a sign of broader problems in the way ICE is operating, while 32 percent think the shootings are isolated incidents.

When it comes to the way ICE is enforcing immigration laws, 34 percent of voters approve, while 63 percent disapprove.

This is a drop in approval from Quinnipiac University's January 13, 2026 poll when 40 percent approved and 57 percent disapproved.

Sixty percent of voters think ICE should withdraw from Minneapolis, while 36 percent think ICE should continue its operations in Minneapolis.

KRISTI NOEM

ICE is an agency within the Department of Homeland Security. Nearly 6 out of 10 voters (58 percent) think Secretary of Homeland Security Kristi Noem should be removed from her job, while 34 percent think she should remain in her job.

“A strong no confidence vote for the beleaguered top cop at Homeland Security whose agency’s job performance is considered dismal enough by voters that she should be let go,” added Malloy.

PRESIDENT TRUMP

Thirty-seven percent of voters approve of the way Donald Trump is handling his job as president, while 56 percent disapprove.

This compares to Quinnipiac University’s January 14, 2026 poll when 40 percent approved and 54 percent disapproved.

When it comes to Trump’s handling of the economy, 39 percent of voters approve, while 56 percent disapprove. In Quinnipiac University’s January 14 poll, 42 percent approved and 53 percent disapproved.

When it comes to Trump’s handling of immigration issues, 38 percent of voters approve, while 59 percent disapprove. This is a drop in approval from Quinnipiac University’s December 17, 2025 poll when 44 percent approved and 54 percent disapproved.

When it comes to Trump’s handling of foreign policy, 37 percent of voters approve, while 58 percent disapprove. In Quinnipiac University’s January 14 poll, 41 percent approved and 56 percent disapproved.

TRUMP IMMIGRATION POLICIES

Six in 10 voters (60 percent) think the Trump administration is being too harsh in its treatment of undocumented immigrants in the United States, 30 percent think the Trump administration is handling this about right, and 7 percent think the Trump administration is being too lenient in its treatment of undocumented immigrants in the United States.

Roughly half of voters (51 percent) think the Trump administration’s approach to immigration is making the country less safe, 35 percent think it is making the country more safe, and 12 percent think the Trump administration’s approach to immigration is not affecting it either way.

ICE FUNDING, MASKS, & BODY CAMERAS

Roughly half of voters (51 percent) think the federal government should provide less funding for ICE, 30 percent think the federal government should keep ICE funding at about its current level, and 14 percent think the federal government should provide more funding for ICE.

Ninety-two percent of voters think ICE agents should be required to wear body cameras, while 5 percent think they should not be required to wear body cameras.

Roughly six in 10 voters (61 percent) think ICE agents should not be permitted to wear masks or other face coverings, while 35 percent think ICE agents should be permitted to wear masks or other face coverings.

“Voters to ICE: Show us your faces and we want those body cameras worn,” added Malloy.

UNDOCUMENTED IMMIGRANTS

Nearly 6 in 10 voters (59 percent) say they would prefer giving most undocumented immigrants in the United States a pathway to legal status, while 34 percent say they would prefer deporting most undocumented immigrants in the United States.

Forty-seven percent of voters say they know someone who is living in fear because of the Trump administration’s deportation policies, while 51 percent say they do not know someone who is living in fear because of the Trump administration’s deportation policies.

“A chilling survey of the ‘American neighborhood’ shows nearly half of us know someone who is afraid of being swept up by ICE,” added Malloy.

1,191 self-identified registered voters nationwide were surveyed from January 29th – February 2nd with a margin of error of +/- 3.6 percentage points, including the design effect.

The Quinnipiac University Poll, directed by Doug Schwartz, Ph.D. since 1994, conducts independent, non-partisan national and state polls on politics and issues.
