REPUBLICANS OUT OF STEP WITH U.S. VOTERS ON KEY ISSUES, QUINNIPIAC UNIVERSITY NATIONAL POLL FINDS;
MOST VOTERS SUPPORT LEGALIZED MARIJUANA

By wide margins, American voters oppose several key proposals by President Donald Trump and/or Republicans in Congress, ranging from across the board tax cuts to oil pipelines to the wall on the Mexican border, according to a Quinnipiac University national poll released today.

Voters support 54 – 38 percent “renegotiating major trade deals with other countries, even if it means paying more for the products you buy” and support 87 – 10 percent increasing federal spending for roads, mass transit and other infrastructure, the independent Quinnipiac (KWIN-uh-pe-ack) University Poll finds.

But American voters oppose other measures:

- 62 – 31 percent against reducing taxes across the board, even if it increases the deficit;
- 51 – 38 percent against restarting the Keystone XL and Dakota Access pipelines;
- 60 – 37 percent against building the wall on the Mexican border, with 65 – 33 percent against the wall if the U.S. must pay for it;
- 76 – 18 percent against lowering taxes on the wealthy;
- 50 – 43 percent against lowering taxes on businesses and corporations;
- 54 – 34 percent against removing regulations on businesses and corporations;
- 63 – 27 percent against removing specific regulations intended to combat climate change;
- 54 – 43 percent against repealing the Affordable Care Act.

The U.S. should deport all immigrants, 19 percent of American voters say, while 22 percent say the U.S. should deport only immigrants who have committed any crime and 53 percent say only immigrants who have committed a serious crime should be deported. Three percent say no illegal immigrants should be deported.

“He rattled the rafters with bold calls for pipelines and tax cuts, a big wall and a new health care plan. But while his base may be eating it up, a broad portion of the electorate is telling President Donald Trump there is a big difference between campaign bravado and an agenda that works for all Americans,” said Tim Malloy, assistant director of the Quinnipiac University Poll.
