GOP TAX PLAN BENEFITS RICH, U.S. VOTERS SAY ALMOST 3-1, QUINNIPIAC UNIVERSITY NATIONAL POLL FINDS;
TRUMP JOB APPROVAL STUCK AT 35 PERCENT

The Republican tax plan pending in the U.S. Congress benefits the wealthy the most, 64 percent of American voters say, while 24 percent say the tax plan benefits the middle class and 5 percent say it benefits low-income people, according to a Quinnipiac University national poll released today.

American voters disapprove of the tax plan 53 – 29 percent, the independent Quinnipiac (KWIN-uh-pe-ack) University Poll finds. Republicans approve of the plan 67 – 10 percent, the only party, gender, education, age or racial group listed to approve. White men are divided as 40 percent approve and 42 percent disapprove.

In a separate question, voters say 61 – 34 percent that the tax plan favors the rich at the expense of the middle class.

The plan will increase their taxes, 41 percent of voters say, while 20 percent say the plan will reduce their taxes and 32 percent say the plan will not have much impact on their taxes.

In the wake of the Republican tax plan, American voters say 47 – 39 percent that the Democratic Party can do a better job handling taxes. Voters have been divided on this question in the past.

American voters give President Donald Trump a negative 35 – 58 percent job approval rating, compared to 38 – 55 percent in a November 21 Quinnipiac University poll.

Voters say 56 – 40 percent that Trump is not fit to be president, tying his all-time low score.

“Deeply unpopular and manifestly unfit for the job. That’s the harsh assessment of President Donald Trump, whose tax plan is considered built for the rich at the expense of the rest,” said Tim Malloy, assistant director of the Quinnipiac University Poll.

Health care is the most important problem facing the country today, 18 percent of voters say, as 17 percent list the economy. Another 13 percent of voters list foreign policy, while 11 percent cite terrorism and 10 percent list race relations.

Voters say 55 – 32 percent that the Democratic Party can do a better job on health care. Voters are closely divided on who does a better job on the economy, as 45 percent say the Democratic Party and 43 percent say the Republican Party. Democrats are ahead on other issues:

- 56 – 34 percent that Democrats can do a better job “fighting for the working class;”
- 51 – 37 percent that Democrats can do a better job “representing your values.”

American voters say 50 – 36 percent, including 44 – 36 percent among independent voters that they would like the Democrats to win control of the U.S. House of Representatives in 2018. Voters also say 51 – 37 percent, including 45 – 38 percent among independent voters, that they would like Democrats to win control of the U.S. Senate in 2018.

President Trump and the Media

Voters are closely divided on how the media treats President Trump: 47 percent of voters say “fairly,” and 48 percent say “unfairly.”

There is no division as voters say 63 – 33 percent that Trump treats the media “unfairly.”

That Russian Thing

American voters believe 59 – 32 percent that the Russian government interfered in the 2016 presidential election. Republicans don’t believe this 65 – 26 percent, the only listed group which does not believe it.

Voters believe 50 – 40 percent that people in the Trump campaign coordinated with the Russian government to interfere in the campaign.

“The Russians interfered in the 2016 election and Trump operatives worked with them, say many suspicious voters,” Malloy said.

From November 29 – December 4, Quinnipiac University surveyed 1,508 voters nationwide with a margin of error of +/- 3.1 percentage points, including the design effect. Live interviewers call landlines and cell phones.

The Quinnipiac University Poll, directed by Douglas Schwartz, Ph.D., conducts nationwide public opinion surveys, and statewide polls in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Florida, Ohio, Virginia, Iowa and Colorado as a public service and for research.
