FOR RELEASE: DECEMBER 18, 2024

SLIGHT MAJORITY OPPOSE TARIFFS ON MEXICO, CANADA & CHINA, QUINNIPIAC UNIVERSITY NATIONAL POLL FINDS;
NEARLY 6 IN 10 WANT TO FOLLOW AUSTRALIA'S LEAD IN BANNING SOCIAL MEDIA FOR TEENS UNDER 16

As President-elect Donald Trump prepares to begin a second term in the Oval Office, his 'day one' plan of imposing tariffs on imports from Mexico, Canada and China faces some headwinds. Voters 51 – 38 percent oppose Trump's plan to impose tariffs on imports from those three countries, according to a Quinnipiac (KWIN-uh-pea-ack) University national poll of registered voters released today.

Republicans (76 – 12 percent) support Trump's plan, while Democrats (89 – 7 percent) and independents (53 – 34 percent) oppose it.

“Will tariffs targeting foreign countries, intended to level the import-export playing field, end up hurting Americans at home? The numbers could suggest that's exactly what voters fear will happen,” said Quinnipiac University Polling Analyst Tim Malloy.

DEPORTATION & BIRTHRIGHT CITIZENSHIP

Immigration is also a priority for the president-elect. A majority of voters (55 percent) say they prefer giving most undocumented immigrants in the United States a pathway to legal status, while 36 percent say they prefer deporting most undocumented immigrants in the United States.

Voters were also asked about birthright citizenship, which allows all children born in the United States to be automatically granted U.S. citizenship. A majority of voters (63 percent) think that all children born in the U.S. should continue to be automatically granted citizenship, while 29 percent think this should be changed so that children of non-citizens are no longer automatically granted citizenship.

TRUMP'S SECOND TERM

Voters 53 – 42 percent say they are generally optimistic about the next four years with Donald Trump as president.

Republicans (95 – 4 percent) and independents (51 – 39 percent) are generally optimistic, while Democrats (82 – 14 percent) are generally pessimistic.

INAUGURATION

In the wake of President-elect Trump's decision to invite China's President Xi Jinping to attend his inauguration next month, 52 percent of voters approve of Trump's decision to invite him, while 32 percent disapprove.

TRUMP NOMINATIONS

Given a list of some of President-elect Trump's Cabinet picks and his choice for FBI Director, voters were asked whether they think the United States Senate should confirm the nominee, or not:

- Marco Rubio as Secretary of State: 53 percent say should confirm, while 30 percent say should not confirm and 16 percent haven't heard enough about him;
- Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. as Secretary of Health and Human Services: 44 percent say should confirm, while 45 percent say should not confirm and 9 percent haven't heard enough about him;
- Tulsi Gabbard as Director of National Intelligence: 37 percent say should confirm, while 36 percent say should not confirm and 26 percent haven't heard enough about her;
- Pam Bondi as Attorney General: 36 percent say should confirm, while 28 percent say should not confirm and 36 percent haven't heard enough about her;
- Kristi Noem as Secretary of Homeland Security: 33 percent say should confirm, while 35 percent say should not confirm and 31 percent haven't heard enough about her;
- Kash Patel as Director of the FBI: 33 percent say should confirm, while 38 percent say should not confirm and 28 percent haven't heard enough about him;
- Pete Hegseth as Secretary of Defense: 33 percent say should confirm, while 39 percent say should not confirm and 28 percent haven't heard enough about him;
- Scott Bessent as Secretary of the Treasury: 29 percent say should confirm, while 22 percent say should not confirm and 49 percent haven't heard enough about him.

ELON MUSK

Voters 53 – 41 percent disapprove of businessman Elon Musk playing a prominent role in the Trump administration.

PRESIDENTIAL PARDONS

Voters 53 – 39 percent disapprove of President Biden's decision to pardon his son, Hunter Biden.

Republicans (83 – 12 percent) and independents (53 – 38 percent) disapprove of Biden's decision, while Democrats (66 – 25 percent) approve.

Voters 59 – 33 percent oppose President Trump pardoning people convicted and jailed for their involvement in the January 6, 2021 attack on the U.S. Capitol.

Republicans (67 – 21 percent) support President Trump pardoning people convicted and jailed for their involvement, while Democrats (96 – 3 percent) and independents (60 – 30 percent) oppose it.

SOCIAL MEDIA BAN

Weeks after Australia passed one of the world's most restrictive laws, banning social media for children under 16 years of age, nearly 6 in 10 voters (59 percent) say they would like to see a similar ban in the United States, while 31 percent say they would not like to see a similar ban.

Support for a social media ban stretches across all listed groups, except one: voters 18 – 34 years old. They are split, with 50 percent saying they would like to see a similar ban in the United States and 46 percent saying they would not like to see a similar ban.

“The ban from Down Under gets a big thumbs up from the other side of the Pacific, as Americans say the Aussies got it right when it comes to handling concerns about social media and kids,” added Malloy.

924 self-identified registered voters nationwide were surveyed from December 12th – 16th with a margin of error of +/- 3.2 percentage points.

The Quinnipiac University Poll, directed by Doug Schwartz, Ph.D. since 1994, conducts independent, non-partisan national and state polls on politics and issues. Surveys adhere to industry best practices and are based on random samples of adults using random digit dialing with live interviewers calling landlines and cell phones.
